Tuesday, November 10 — New Directions Chamber Winds

Introducing the New Directions Chamber Winds, an ensemble of accomplished South Florida musicians performing classical, traditional and modern works arranged solely for winds. Tonight's program includes Richard Rogers' The King and I Overture, Mozart's Flute Concerto No 1 (1st Mvmt. Carol Nicholson Soloist) and favorite Opera Suites by Bizet, Greig and Tchaikovsky.

Wednesday, November 18 — Yasa and Darren

Experience the magic of cinema through violin and piano. From the passionate tango of Scent of a Woman and the haunting beauty of Schindler's List to Mozart's music from the world of Amadeus, the playful classics of Tom and Jerry, and the romantic theme from Ladies in Lavender, this program brings unforgettable music from the screen to the concert stage.

Wednesday, December 2 — Dr Ron Feinman

We are pleased that Prof. Ron Feinman will join us again with another fact filled and in-depth presentation on the US Presidency. This time the subject is RANKING THE PRESIDENTS (based on three Presidential Surveys of 2021, 2022, and 2024).

Thursday, December 3 — Gary Cadwallader

Since the end of World War II, Jewish families have fought tirelessly to reclaim the priceless works of art and personal treasures stolen by the Nazis. Despite the regime's meticulous recordkeeping, thousands of artworks remain missing, their journeys obscured by decades of greed, theft, and silence. In exploring the Palm Beach Dramaworks world premiere production of Provenance, Gary Cadwallader leads a conversation about the gripping search for Nazi-looted art and the intergenerational, continent-spanning effort to reunite families with the pieces of their history before they are lost forever.

Tuesday, December 8 — Aneliya Novikova

In this piano recital, from the romance of Chopin to the modern rhythms of Philip Glass - and her own original compositions – Aneliya Novikova takes you on a journey through beautiful, powerful, and deeply personal music.

Thursday, December 10 — Jack Small

Jack will follow up on last season's outstanding presentation, Introduction to AI, with a similar treatment of the field Robotics. What is it, where is it now and what will be the impact of anticipated advancements in the field? Advancements which, of course, include AI.

Wednesday, December 16 — Roger A. Gross

Roger Gross is a well known historian and reconteur. He invites you learn about both familiar and not so well known stories of Spies through the ages. Please attend and hear the unique stories from our our collective history.

Thursday, December 17 — Adam Schneider

Star Trek collector Adam Schneider, a Boca West resident, will share hard-earned lessons on how to manage our personal collections. Whether you collect stamps - or baseball cards - or pocketbooks - or cars - there are important things to think about in the collection life cycle including how to collect, how to protect, how to value, and how to dispose.
